TEUTONIC ARMIES
TIGHTEN THE GRIP
ABOUT BUCHAREST

Slowly But Certainly the Great Armies of the Central Powers Are Closing in on Capital of Rou-mania.

Sorely Pressed Soldiers of Roumania
Prepare to Make Desperate Defense
of Capital.

(Associated Press Cable.)
The Teutonic grip on Roumania remains unshaken, and at last reports was tightening, with three converging forces continuing, unchecked, their advance toward Bucharest.

Despite tenacious resistance by the Roumanians, which appears to have increased as Bucharest was neared, by the armies of Field Marshal von Mackensen and General von Falken-hain, the invaders are now almost within gunshot of the capital.

They are nearest their objective on the southwest, where Tzomania, 16 miles distant, has been reached.

From the west, they have driven to within 40 miles.

On the northwest they have broken the Roumanian lines, permitting of a new influx of Austro-German troops.

The Russians, meanwhile, have been attacking heavily all along the frontier of Moldavia, in an evident attempt to create a diversion in Roumania's favor.

Greece today is in the midst of what seems likely to prove her greatest crisis. The Entente ultimatum under which possession of Greek arms and munitions were demanded, have expired, and King Constantine is reported to have definitely refused compliance with the demands.

Today's German headquarters reports records steady progress for the Teutonic allies against the Roumanians along the entire front.

Further inroads upon the Roumanians personnel and equipment are announced by Berlin with the capture of more than 2,800 prisoners, 21 cannon and other material.

DESPERATE DEFENSE

London, December 1. — The Exchange Telegraph Company says it has received information from Zurich, by way of Rome, that the Roumanian military authorities are making preparations for a desperate defense of Bucharest.

The civilian population is said to have evacuated the city, and the government officials have retired to a town on the Russian frontier.

WAITING FOR CRISIS' END

In View of Definite Refusal to Comply With Allies Demand World Waits
News From Athens

London, December 1. — In view of the definite refusal of the Greek government to deliver the arms demanded by the Entente Allies and the threat of Vice-Admiral De Fournet, commander of the Allied squadron, to take action today unless his demand was acceded to, news from Greece is awaited anxiously.

Cable messages dispatched from Athens late yesterday afternoon showed that preparations were being made to resist seizure of the arms, and also that a French transport had arrived at Piraeus to land troops if trouble should develop.

British bluejackets were ordered to co-operate, and the Admiral gave warning that prominent personages taking part in any resistance would be arrested.

The Greek Government has given guarantees that order will be maintained.

WILSON INVITES

President to Jollify Quietly.

dent Wilson today invited William Jennings Bryan to take luncheon with him December 6th, at the White has been invited, but has not yet accepted.

the President for a dinner December 7 at the White House in honor of Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the

AMUNDSEN, SOUTH POLE FINDER WILL TRY TO FLY PART WAY TO NORTH POLE

ROALD AMUNDSEN AND THE FRAM

Siberia until the ice breaks up and then begin to drift toward the pole.
I expect the trip will take from three to five years. If the flow takes the direction that I think it does we will come out of the ice between Spitzbergen and Greenland, thus making almost a complete circle.

"My object in taking an aeroplane is to fly to the north pole from the nearest point that we pass on the ship, which, I suppose, will be about 100 miles away. This should be covered in a two hour's flight, and I would stay twenty-four hours to make observations and then fly back.

"My object is not to find the pole,
because that has already been done.
I wish to make observations of the ocean currents and air currents in order to complete the meteorological records and make it easier to predict weather conditions in other parts of the world. If you know the air currents at the poles it makes it easier to estimate the air currents in other parts of the earth. I obtained some observations of the air currents at the south pole on my expedition when it was discovered."

Alan R. Hawley, president of the Aero Club of America, said that the club would be glad to co-operate with Captain Amundsen in every way to make a success of the expedition.
Pictures show Amundsen and the Fram, the ship he used on his successful south pole expedition in 1911.

Captain Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer who discovered the south pole arrived in New York on the Scandinavian American liner Frederik VIII, from Copenhagen to purchase an aeroplane to assist him in his next trip to the arctic regions

In July 1918. The explorer wished it to be clearly understood that he did not intend to make all the trip in an airship, as had been stated erroneously in some publications. The aero-plane would be taken on the ship to make the last hundred miles to the pole.

Captain Amundsen's hair is white, and his face is bronzed and weather beaten from many years of exposure to wind, sun and sea, but his blue eyes seemed as steady and bright as they were years ago, and he walked down the pier at Hoboken with the springing, rolling gait of a mariner.

"I intend to leave Norway in July, 1918," Captain Amundsen said, "in an auxiliary schooner of 800 tons, which is now under construction. She will have a 240 horsepower engine and three masts with fore and aft sails. I will have a crew of ten men.
My plans are to follow the coast of

BALL SENT THROUGH BRAIN WHEN RIFLE IS DISCHARGED

Ed M. Evans, Widely Known Jefferson Township Farmer, Fatally Wounded, Is Rushed to Hospital. Dies Today.

TRAGEDY OCCURS DURING ABSENCE OF HIS FAMILY

Was Cleaning Gun When Ball Penetrates Head and Victim Is Found By Wife Who Returns From Thanksgiving Dinner.

Mr. Ed. Evans, aged 43, widely known farmer of Pleasant View, Jefferson township, was rushed to a Columbus hospital in a dying condition, Thursday night, as result of a gunshot wound in his head, due to the accidental discharge of a 22-calibre rifle while he was cleaning it about ten o'clock Thursday.

Mr. Evans died in the Grant Hospital, Columbus, at 10:30 Friday morning, and Undertaker E. A. Kiever went after the remains in his motor hearse.

Mr. Evans was alone at home when the dreadful accident occurred, and it was nearly five hours later that his wife and son, returning from taking Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. Evans' father, Mathias Flax, found the wounded man sitting on a chair, in an unconscious condition, with blood flowing from a bullet wound in one eye.

The fact that the cleaning equipment of the gun was scattered about the floor plainly indicated how the tragedy had occurred.

When she made the shocking discovery Mrs. Evans hurriedly called to nearby neighbors, and within a short time a physician was on his way to the scene. After making a hurried examination of the wounded man, arrangements were made to bring him to this city, which was done, and he was placed aboard the 8:08 B. & O. train and taken to a Columbus hospital, where he was given every possible attention, but announcement was made that he could not recover, and that death was merely a question of hours.

It was found that the ball evidently a "long rifle" had not only penetrated the skull but had penetrated the brain and left the skull at the top of the head, which destroying part of the brain and causing paralysis.

It was evident that the gun had been discharged while the muzzle of the weapon was within a few inches of his forehead, and he probably was examining the muzzle of the gun at the time and accidentally struck the trigger against a round of the chair upon which he was sitting.

Mr. Evans had been expected to attend the Thanksgiving dinner at the home of his father-in-law, and was last seen alive shortly before ten o'clock. It is supposed that the wound was inflicted about that hour, and that he sat on the chair immovable for more than six hours until he was found. Part of the cleaning equipment still lay across his knees. He evidently had not moved.

Mr. Evans is a son of Mr. Ely Evans, of near Bowersville, and a nephew of Mr. Louis Evans of Bloomington. He leaves, besides the widow and 16-year-old son, Oscar, two brothers, Stanley and Oscar, of near Jamestown, and one sister, Miss Grace, at home.

Mr. Evans formerly resided in the Bloomington neighborhood.

WASHINGTON HAS LOW COAL PRICE

Dayton Prices $2 to $4 Higher Than In This City—Local Citizens Get Benefit of Contracts Made Long Ago.

That Washington citizens are obtaining cheap coal, compared to the price of adjoining cities, is clearly indicated by prices quoted in Dayton and in this city, and the much lower price in this city is probably due to contracts made long ago, and local dealers are giving the citizens the benefit of these contracts as long as possible.

Capt. Geo. C. Jenkins submits a clipping from a Dayton newspaper, showing prices prevailing in that city at the present time, and quotes prices charged in this city for the same coal, showing that the prices here are $2 to $4 cheaper on the ton than in Dayton.

Senator Harding's Statement

The announcement by United States Senator Warren G. Harding declaring unequivocally in favor of a universal eight hour work day for all labor provided for by law and enforced by drastic punitive provisions demonstrates just how nearly in harmony our public men are on the vital questions of the day.

During the next four years and following the close of the European war when the contest to gain back the lost commerce becomes bitter among the nations now at war when deranged European labor conditions are striving to right themselves there are certain to be a host of grave problems confront the statesmen of the United States.

An era when patriotism must rise supreme is near at hand and with the great election campaigns ended this nation can face the trying times ahead with little fear of a divided household on the more important matters which will crowd forward for solution.

The next half dozen years will be a decidedly uncomfortable and unprofitable period for statesmen to descend to petty politics and it is likely that very many 'party measures' will be thrown into the discard. It will be no time to adhere to party principle for political effect.

Tariff laws and regulations will, of necessity, be revised to meet changed and changing conditions.

The interests of American laborers must be safe guarded in fact and the United States must in short rise equal to the demands which the new era will make necessary. It will too.

Senator Harding's broad and frank statement is only the forerunner of an independence among statesmen and political leaders that will have little about which, at least during the period of readjustment of the world's affairs, political parties can disagree.

Food Prices Forced Down

The boycott inaugurated in New York by the people and led by the housewives of the metropolis, produced some very substantial good results.

Many people could not and many more would not pay the exorbitant prices which food stuff dealers were demanding. Conditions produced by the boycott were by far the most remarkable in the history of the country. New York markets and produce dealers were overstocked with all kinds of eatables there was no shortage in any line and the prices demanded were the highest ever known.

Dealers had accumulated an enormous supply anticipating their ability to demand and receive unheard of prices during the annual Thanksgiving feast season.

When day after day and later on hour after hour passed by and the people refused to buy at the prices demanded a near panic seized the dealers and prices began to tumble at a rate which enabled many to purchase foodstuffs at a much lower price.

In many states and cities throughout the nation Governors and Mayors and other men in executive positions are urging organization by consumers to beat down prices to a point more nearly in harmony with actual conditions.

Every day it becomes more apparent that some organized and aggressive action by consumers is necessary if the people are to be relieved from the outrageous price conditions now prevailing.

New York markets at the Thanksgiving season are an example of what is being done by the dealers and what can be accomplished by the consumers.

New York never had more produce of all kinds in her markets than she had this week and, until the prices were beaten down by the defensive organization of the consumers, never were such high prices demanded. Sixteen per cent increase in retail prices, within twelve months as shown by the report of the Bureau of Labor, is not only without precedent but is absolutely without excuse.

Poetry For TodayTHE SUBMARINE.

A shadow drifts through the sea-floor waves,
Where the old armada sleeps.
Breaking the hush of those ancient graves
Where the war-god his long watch keeps.
For them there was sunshine aglint on the sea,
The heave of the flood-tide swells;
In their white-winged ships they wandered free,
With the memory of last farewells.

Gladly and gayly they went to their doom,
With the flutter of banners bright;
Voiceless they sank in the battle gloom,
With the wreckage adrift from the fight.
A bugle sounded its "Charge" through the night—
Their battle-songs answered its call.
With a banner adfluter before their sight—
Can you measure the bliss of their fall?

So their curses they heap on the gray submarine,
When that shadowy ship glides by—
An assassin that lurks in the seaweed green,
And hides from the light of the sky.
They met the foe in a fair, open fight,
In the dauntless days of the yore—
Now wolf-ships wait in the shadows of night
When the battle-fleet sails from the shore.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Stamford, Conn., Nurse Tells How She Found Health.

Stamford, Conn.—"I am a nurse and suffered from a nervous breakdown. I had no appetite and could not sleep at night, and nothing seemed to help me. By chance I heard of Vinol, and after taking the first bottle I noticed an improvement, and four bottles made me well and strong. It gave me a hearty appetite, so I can sleep soundly night or day. I consider Vinol a wonderful tonic." Edith R. Frobes, Stamford, Conn.

The reason Vinol is so successful in overcoming such conditions is because it is a constitutional remedy and goes to the seat of the trouble. It is the greatest strength creator we know—due to the beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphate which it contains all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine.

We have seen so many wonderful recoveries like this right here in Washington Court House, caused by Vinol, that we feel perfectly safe in offering to return money in every such case where Vinol fails to benefit.

Investment Information

There is more concentrated, essential information about good 7% investments in the 24 pages of our new "Portfolio of Investment Securities" than in any similar publication that we know about. Some of the 22 securities described have behind them splendid records of prosperous growth.

Steady, uninterrupted incomes, come from securities of real merit that are chosen in the light of long experience and sound information. Just at this time there is much mis-information and irresponsible advice afloat about investments, and it is unwise to buy without first consulting an experienced investment house of good standing.

We want investors everywhere to know about our long experience and our enviable record of service to our customers. For that reason, we have prepared this new "Portfolio" and will be glad to mail it, without expense, on application.

EASY VICTORY IS WON BY W. H. S. IN THE FINAL GAME

Only One Defeat Marked Up Against Fast W. H. S. Footballers, Who Win Ten of Eleven Games, Making 299 Points to Opponents' 42.

Playing before a large crowd in the closing game of the season, Thursday afternoon, Washington High defeated Lancaster High 45 to 2.

The game was a complete walk-away with the exception of the last quarter, when Lancaster tightened up and held the locals scoreless.

The game started with Washington receiving at the west goal. The ball was lost on fumbles but was recovered a moment later by Harper when Quarterback Lloyd attempted a forward pass. The ball was down on the ten yard line and in two plays O'Brian carried the ball over for the first touchdown. He was followed in scoring in the first quarter by McFadden and Strevey. In the second quarter McFadden and Strevey again scored by the lineback method, and it was in this quarter that McFadden kicked the only goal that was made during the entire game.

In the second half Strevey and McFadden scored for the third time. In this period O'Brian made a sensational run of fifty yards for a touchdown but was called back by the referee on the grounds that he had not called play.

Lancaster's only score was made in the third quarter when McDonald fell on the ball back of Lancaster's goal line.

It was in the fourth quarter that Lancaster took a brace and held the locals scoreless. Washington repeatedly fumbled and was unable to advance the ball materially.

O'Brian was the star of the game, making large gains on every play in which he carried the ball. Strevey and McFadden tied for the scoring honors, each having three touchdowns to his credit. The linebacks of this pair seemed to dazzle the Lancaster boys and they were brilliant unable to cope with them at any time. Cap McDonald played his usual brilliant game at quarter.

Burnett played the star game on the line. Lewis and Harper also showed up very good in breaking up interference.

Substitutions: L. H. S.—Coakley for Derry, W. H. S.—Giddings for Harper, Flee for Giddings; W. Willis for Flee; Wetzel for Weaver; Laughlin for Wetzel; W. Willis for O'Brian; Haines for Laughlin.

Scoring—W. H. S.: Touchdowns: Strevey 3; McFadden 3; O'Brian 1; Goal for touchdown: McFadden 1. Lancaster: Safety 2.

Score by quarters:

W. H. S.	18	13	12	0-43
L. H. S.	0	0	2	0-2

Too much cannot be said of this year's team. It has bucked up against several large teams and has acquitted itself with honors.

They never knew when they were beaten. This was demonstrated in the Springfield, Circleville and Chillicothe games.

Not since 1910 has there been a team in the high school that has made a record and probably never one that has rolled up so many points, and much of this is due to Coach Plyley.

Following are the list of scores made by the team this year:

Xenia, 4; W. H. S., 48.
Greenfield, 7; W. H. S., 13.
Circleville, 7; W. H. S., 19.
Wilmington, 7; W. H. S., 9.
Hillsboro, 9; W. H. S., 38.
Circleville, 13; W. H. S., 21.
Chillicothe, 6; W. H. S., 9.
Xenia, 7; W. H. S., 49.
Hillsboro, 0; W. H. S., 59.
Lancaster, 2; W. H. S., 43.
Totals: Opponents, 42; W. H. S., 299; Average weight of W. H. S., 151.

With simple burial services while the bright sunshine poured benediction, all that was mortal of Miss Faye S. Ustick, was laid to rest in the family lot of the Washington cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

THANKSGIVING PLAY SUCCESSFULLY STAGED

Sugar Creek Baptist church was filled to its capacity Wednesday night when the young women of Miss Lena Fultz's Sunday school class put on a very attractive Thanksgiving entertainment. Miss Fultz was assisted by the assistant teacher, Miss Golda Baughn in the successful management and staging.

The leading features were a Thanksgiving musical play, "Plymouth Rock," and a Pantomime, presenting the "Starving Time," from "Hiawatha."

The play gave a correct and captivating picture of Puritan days, the costuming excellent.

The leading parts were well taken; Miss Mary Baughn the charming Puritan maid, "Priscilla;" Leonard Rine, the lover, John Alden; Walter Hutchison, Captain Miles Standish; Miss Gladys McCord, Dame Goodley, and Edwin McCord, Gov. Winslow.

Both in music and dialogue the plot developed entertainingly.

The pantomime was beautifully put on and pleasing readings and songs, completed the program.

HIGH SCHOOL MINSTRELS ARE ENJOYED

Large Audience Delighted With Clever Work of High School Students Wednesday Night—Glee Clubs Contribute Many Spirited Numbers.

A capacity house that again demonstrated the popularity of High School entertainments thoroughly enjoyed the Concert and Minstrel Show put on by the High School Glee Clubs and Orchestra at the Auditorium, on Wednesday night.

The first part of the entertainment offered Glee Club choruses by both clubs, and the boys' and girls' clubs separately, that were spirited and pretty, and sung with good volume and expression under the direction of Miss Sheen, Supervisor of Music.

The popular glee club quartet, Messrs. C. Giddings, McFadden, Gregg and E. Giddings, received its usual quota of applause, but disappointed the audience by being rather chary of encores.

Miss Louise Larrimer, whose contralto voice is rich in promise, sang two beautiful ballads, (a) "Good-bye Summer," Dykes; (b) "Sweet Miss Mary," Neidlinger.

Part second consisted of a jolly minstrel show, prefacing which Supt. McClain called attention to the transformation of the "White Wings" of the afternoon who showed themselves equally strenuous as black faced comedians.

The curtain rose on a real minstrel scene, with the girls' glee club on tiers of seats in the background and the boys ranged in the minstrel semicircle in the foreground. Flanking either side were the end men, their ebony faces beaming with ready smiles, high collared, and very smart in regulation dress suits and white gloves.

They met the demands of their role by maintaining the cake walk swagger and apt in joke and song.

Robert McFadden was the "Charley Gano" of the bunch in a startling make-up of red swallow tail coat and buff trousers and his original antics throughout the performance called forth continuous laughter and applause.

The other end men were Aloysius McDonald, Mallow Hall, Joe Wilson, Carey Giddings, Howard Harper, Robert Willis, Earl Giddings, Howard Gregg.

Willis Willis was splendid as the interlocuter, in powdered periwig, his voice excellent and his selfpossession impossible to ruffle.

"Dick" Willis also won his share of applause as a clown end man and McFadden, McDonald, Hall and Gregg each contributed tuneful end men songs, with full chorus and a few cake walk stunts thrown in. Gregg in his song hit, "Yank Hula Hike Dula," banjo accompaniment, and Bob McFadden doing a side stunt in the accompaniment line, drew the big applause of the performance, recalled a half dozen times.

Miss Dorothy Rogers' contralto solo "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," was exceedingly pretty and typical.

The end men sprinkled the program with jokes and take offs, and Joe Wilson was extremely clever in his darky dialect monologue, given with the real minstrel swing which brought generous applause.

The program was effectively closed by Miss Roberta Stokesbury, in character song: "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginia," with chorus. Miss Stokesbury's sweet soprano voice was specially adapted to the plaintive melody and she was exceedingly good in both singing and acting, her make up that of the true old Southern Mammy.

The High School orchestra played well and added immensely to the success of the evening.

The management included Robert McFadden, manager of the boys' glee club; Kathleen Davis, manager of the girls' glee club; Ruth Reid and Marian Christopher at the piano; Miss Kessler, leader of the orchestra, with Miss Davis accompanist; Elizabeth Sheen, director.

THIEVES ARE BUSY IN UNION TOWNSHIP

For some little time thieves have been at work in Union township and northern Wayne township, and are stealing everything from fat hogs to corn and chickens.

One farmer has missed two good sized hogs, and others report many chickens stolen. In one or two instances the thieves went into corn fields under cover of darkness and picked out the best of the corn which had been husked.

It is believed by some that the thieves use automobiles, and that they probably dispose of their stolen goods in some nearby town, or probably in this city.

HUGE MONUMENT BEING INSTALLED

Mr. Frank Jamison of the Leesburg pike is having a very handsome monument erected on his lot in the local cemetery. This monument is made from the Dark Barre Granite and is designed very much out of the ordinary, being composed of only two pieces weighing sixteen tons, and is polished all over. It is eight feet long at the base and stands six feet high. This is the largest all polished monument in this section of the country, and one of the largest monuments of its kind ever shipped from Barre, Vermont.

This work is being executed by the P. J. Burke Monument Company of this city. Mr. Burke is also furnishing a similar monument for Mrs. Jamison's father and mother, Edward and Mary Taylor.

GLORIA'S ROMANCE

Of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes

Novelized from the Motion Picture Play of the same name by George Kleine.

SYNOPSIS.

Pierpont Stafford, with his daughter Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Freneau. Five years later she leaves school and meets Freneau at the theater; he has forgotten Gloria. Later Freneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lois, becomes intensely jealous and Doctor Royce discovers in her an old enemy. She accuses her of the supposed suicide of Freneau reported in the paper. Gloria swears to find the murderer. Royce tells what he knows of Freneau to Mr. Stafford. Gloria insists on going to Palm Beach. She is recognized by her one-time captor, the young Indian chief. He tells her that Royce and not Freneau was her rescuer at that time. Gloria attends night court; she sees Mulry there, also the tramp who attacked Freneau. But Judge Freeman releases him. She follows the tramp when he leaves the court. She finds herself in a low saloon dance hall, and is selected by one of the patrons as his partner. Doctor Royce, however, follows her and when he attempts a rescue, calls down a riot on their heads. The hall is raided and the crowd, including Gloria and Royce, is arrested and taken before Judge Freeman. Casimir arrives with the child Gloria, promised to adopt. She orders Royce to take Casimir's wife to the Stafford home. She follows Trask and lands on a houseboat to hear him accused of Freneau's murder. She confronts him; he imprisons her, but she ties him up and escapes. By many stages she arrives at home. In the yacht Gloria and the men pursue the barge. Trask fires on them as they near him. In the fight that follows Trask is badly wounded. He is taken to the Stafford home. Royce endeavors to return to Lois her letters to Freneau. During a playful scuffle Gloria sees and recognizes the envelope. She suspects Royce of complicity in the murder. Royce tells her all. She sees one of Lois' letters to Freneau. Judge Freeman confesses his part. When Lois is confronted she flees from Gloria intent on suicide.

NINETEENTH EPISODE

Her Vow Fulfilled

As Lois Stafford fled down the terraces of her father-in-law's majestic estate, her own life seemed to be symbolized in her desperate ambition to destroy herself. The flowers and the aromatic shrubs threw out their fragrance about her, but she would not pause. She was bent upon the tragedy waiting for her in the deep ravine toward which the express train was plunging as if in obedience to her summons.

The cries of Gloria, who pursued her frantically, came to her like the voice of conscience. She had never heeded that voice and she would not hearken to it now. She had trodden the primrose path of dalliance and it had led her forth into the glare of exposure. She would not endure the shame. It seemed better to her irresponsible soul to run away from self-denial. She had not cared what laws of fidelity she broke and she did not care now what hearts she might break. Her husband's tarnished honor, her father's blighted career, did not win a thought from her.

It was Gloria who thought of these things even as she followed. Gloria felt more guilt than Lois, for Gloria and confronted Lois with the proofs of her perfidy, never fancying that Lois would answer the charge by punishing herself with the same recklessness that had marked her sin. As she saw Lois running toward death with eagerness, she understood for the first time that it was in Lois' character to do everything passionately. She realized that Lois had always been Lois, and that her fault was, perhaps, beyond her own control. Lois was born without imagination of consequences and without an instinct of justice for others. Was Lois to blame for her failure to inherit such qualities? At the time, at least, Gloria was convinced that Lois was like one born blind, more to be forgiven than hated. Gloria felt only pity for her sister-in-law and she accused herself of cruelty in demanding payment of her.

Gloria ran as fast as she could, her heart beating till she was ready to fall down with the pain of it. She was about to give up when Lois, glancing back for a last look at the beautiful earth she was about to leave, stumbled and went to her knees.

She rose at once and sped on, but Gloria had been enabled to gain on her, and to overtake her at the very edge of the ravine. With loving ruthlessness Gloria flung herself on Lois and dragged her back.

TO BE CONTINUED.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS INTERVIEWS CAPTIVES

(Associated Press Cable)

Toerzburg Transylvania, December 1. — Prisoners of war being not unwilling to please their captors, their statements must be taken with a large pinch of salt. Though there be no officer of the enemy present, the prisoner of war cannot be sure that his statements do not become known to the powers into whose hands the fortune of war has placed him.

The Associated Press correspondent was able to interview here today two score Roumanian officers and men who had fallen into captivity near Rucar, some twenty miles south of here. No Central Power officer was within earshot.

One of the first men questioned was a Roumanian Jew, a man of some education and standing. He had served as a private. Unblushingly he said that he had looked for a chance for a to surrender. Questioned why the man almost flew into a rage. He could not see why a Jew should fight for a government which in times of peace gave him no vote and no part in the affairs of his country. He hoped that the Central Powers would get to Bucharest in a few days and hang them all, especially Bratiansu and Take Jonescu who had so needlessly involved the country in war. Six other Jews were a little timid in their expressions but seemed to heartily agree with their spokesman.

Captured officers are non-interviewable, as a rule. The code, as well as tact, forbids that they be questioned, but one of them, a tall handsome fellow of about twenty-five, gave it as his opinion that the war was "une sale affaire"—a dirty business.

EMPLOY ARTISTS

(Associated Press Cable.) London, December 1. — Artists in distress through the war are being employed to decorate the walls of many of the public schools of this city with friezes and panels, illustrative of life and industry in the British Dominions beyond the seas.

One of the most striking pictures depicts London with St. Paul's cathedral overlooking the Thames, and barges and steamers moving about the river. Others are of pastoral scenes in Canada, Australia, South Africa and the West Indies.

By extending the work throughout the school system the board of education hopes to develop the imagination of the pupils and possibly develop a large school of decorative painting in England.

UNIFORM REGULATION FOR STEAM BOILERS

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, December 1.—The American Uniform Boiler Law Society will begin a three days' conference here Wednesday, December 4, to draft legislation for uniform construction and regulation of steam boilers. President Wilson, delegates from thirty-four states, and expert mechanical engineers will deliver addresses.

The convention has been called by the Industrial Commission of Ohio, with a view to drafting a boiler code for nation-wide use, so that a free interchangeability of boilers can be established.

There is very little legislation to govern the construction of boilers in this country. Massachusetts, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana, Minnesota, and Montana are declared to be the only states which have adequate laws on the subject.

J. C. Callery, chief deputy of the Division of Boiler Inspection of the Industrial Commission will preside, and the opening address will be by T. J. Duffy, of the Industrial Commission of Ohio. Edward N. Hurley, of the Federal Trades Commission will speak on "Standardization as Effecting Industrial Efficiency;" Prof. R. F. Hutton, Columbia University on "Safety in Boiler Construction;" John C. McCabe, chief Boiler Inspector of the City of Detroit, on "Steam Boiler Inspection;" Henry Hess, of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, on the "A. S. M. E. Boiler Code" and Thomas E. Durban of Erie, chairman of the American Uniform Boiler Society on a "Plea for Uniform Boiler Specifications." Former President W. H. Taft has been asked to deliver the closing address of the convention.

U. S. SOLDIERS ARE STUDYING SPANISH

San Antonio, Texas, December 1.—The study of Spanish is the most popular of many courses which form the educational program at every Army Young Men's Christian Association building in the military camps along the Mexican border. In spite of the handicaps of guard or other duties, the attendance at the classes is close to the enrollment. The instructors are drawn from both officers and enlisted men and include experienced teachers, many of them members of the faculties of colleges and universities.

At one of the Y. M. C. A. buildings at Camp Wilson, this city, fifty men from the District of Columbia and Illinois regiments are studying the Spanish language and at Pharr, Texas, there are eight classes totalling 288 men, drawn from New York and Tennessee regiments. At Deming, New Mexico, twelve classes of twelve men each are studying the language of the Mexicans, and at Llano Grande, Texas, the enrollment for study exceeds 300.

LEPER KILLS BOY AND EATS FLESH

(Associated Press Cable.) Seoul, Korea, December 1.—Justifying his act by the Korean superstition that the eating of human flesh is a cure for leprosy, a Korean leper named Sin Yungyun has confessed to the murder of a five-year-old boy whose mutilated body was discovered in a field in South Cholla province. According to the police the accused also admitted that with another leper he killed a girl in the mountains on September 15, and that both had eaten of her flesh.

Lepers in Korea hitherto led a miserable life. With the exception of those cared for by missionaries in a small hospital near Pusan, they have been left to roam at will and eke out their own living. The superstition as to cannibal cure is very general. Not infrequently cannibalism has been reported from the remote districts.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

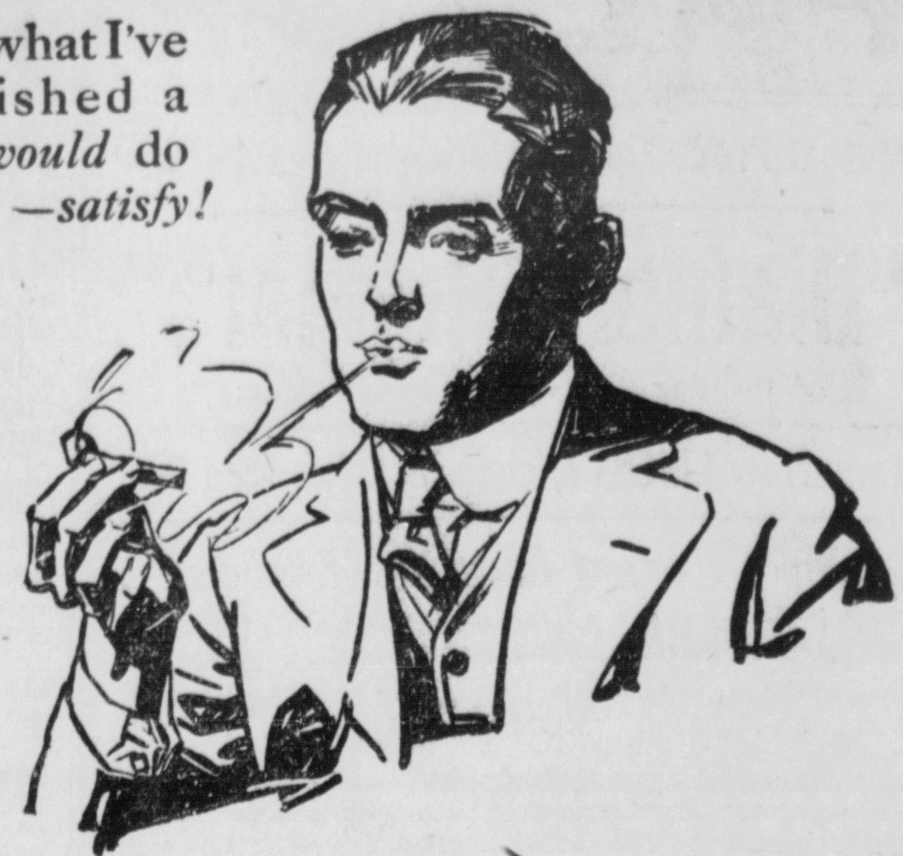

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The feature of Chesterfields is that they begin where other cigarettes leave off.

In other words, besides pleasing the taste, Chesterfields go further—they satisfy! Just like a long drink of cold water satisfies when you're thirsty.

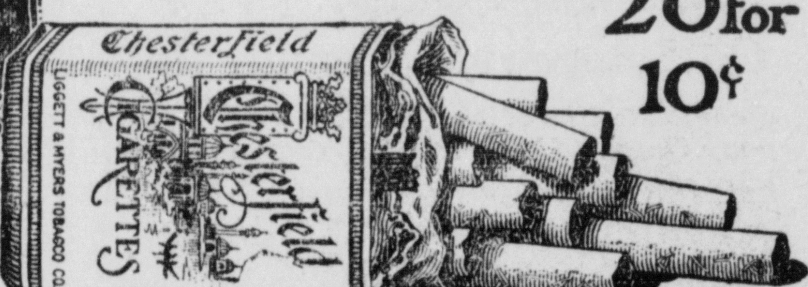

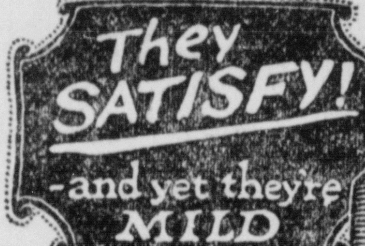

And yet, Chesterfields are MILD!
